Galaxy Technologies #1 Abra Partner and Named to Best Software's Presidents Circle for 2004

Receives Distinctive Circle Designation for Fifth Year

Madison, Wisconsin – November 6, 2004 – Galaxy Technologies, Inc. has been named to Best Software's distinguished Presidents Circle for 2004, a distinction given annually to business partners and national consulting partners generating the highest sales revenue during the previous fiscal year. A business partner selling the Abra Suite from Best Software, Galaxy Technologies, Inc., earned the #1 spot with the highest sales revenues of all partners.

"The Presidents Circle represents the strongest, most successful partners in our sales channel," said David Butler, executive vice president, customer and channel operations, Best Software. "We congratulate Galaxy Technologies, Inc. for achieving this prestigious designation, thank them for their efforts."

Presidents Circle awards are given to all mid-market and small business partners who achieve top revenue across all product lines, including Abra, ACT!, BusinessWorks, DacEasy, FAS, MAS 90 and MAS 200, MAS 500, MIP, Peachtree, Platinum for Windows by Best, SalesLogix, and TimeSlips. Additional Presidents Circle awards are given to individual partners that achieve the highest in overall product revenue for Best Software's Mid-Market Division.

"Galaxy Technologies dedication to exceeding customer satisfaction with service and value keeps our customers returning to us over and over again for additional solutions," said Terri Donlin, Professional Services Manager for Galaxy Technologies. "The combination of Best Software's Abra HRMS solution and TimeStar Enterprise provides organizations of all sizes with a comprehensive integrated solution."

Galaxy Technologies has been an Abra business partner since 1990 and has developed complementary time and attendance solutions allowing organizations to use Galaxy Technologies as a single source for all of their Labor Management Solutions. Galaxy Technologies customer centric consultative approach to sales focuses on client goal achievement and providing the appropriate product feature mix that allows customers to reach their unique business goals.
